

SHAIKH KAIF

React Native Developer

I am a Junior React Native Developer who is always ready to learn new skills and improve myself. My goal is to work with an innovative organization to develop unique and powerful mobile applications that provide the best user experience. I don't just limit myself to writing code; I believe in exploring new ideas and creating something truly impactful.

React Native Intern

Human Quotient Private Limited, Thane

01/2024 - 03/2024

Mumbai, Maharashtra, India

Achievements/Tasks

- During my internship in graduation, the project had an old UI. As a beginner, I helped transition to the new UI by converting designs into code using Locofy. I also structured the project files efficiently and integrated various third-party libraries where needed to enhance functionality and improve the overall development process.
